FIND SKELETON OF MAN NEAR WILLIAMS

The skeleton of a white man was found in an almost inaccessible place about two and a half miles southeast of Williams by a rancher named Talk.

From appearances the man had been dead four or five years. An examination of the skull showed it had been crushed and blood stains were found on remnants of clothes lying near the body.

There was nothing found that would lead to the identification of the body, and it is doubtful if it is ever identified.

Two or three men are known to be missing, having disappeared mysteriously during the past few years, and officials are puzzling over the problem of whom this one is.

County Attorney Wilson was in Williams Tuesday to investigate the gruesome find, but returned without much definite information.

Bees Attack Team

A team of horses belonging to Wm. Beeson were fiercely attacked by a swarm of bees at Judge Harrington's residence Wednesday and were only saved by the heroic efforts of the driver. He drove into the yard and was unloading some wood when a hive started to swarm. They litterly covered the horses in a few seconds. The driver cut the horses loose from the wagon, but in the meantime one horse was so badly stung about the head it became crazed and had to be dragged away by main strength of the other horse. Hundreds of stingers were left in the horse's nose and head. The horse seemed like a hopeless case at first but recovered some later from the effects of the stings.

Mrs. Willard Wagner Dead

Word was received by relatives in Flagstaff Wednesday of the death of Mrs. Willard Wagner, wife of Engineer Wagner, at Clovis, California. She was a sister of Col. George Hochderffer and well known here in Flagstaff. No details of her death were received. She has been in Clovis since the recent death of her daughter and had been in bad health, but her death comes as a shock to her many friends in this section of Arizona. She was buried at Clovis on Thursday.

Presbyterian Church

Episcopal Services

There will be no morning services in the Episcopal church on next Sunday. At eight o'clock in the evening all the churches with the visiting clergy will be present for the last service of the Indian conference.

The choirs of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Episcopal churches will lead in the music. JOSEPH LYONS MEADE, Rector.

WANT LAW INITIATED BONDS FOR GOOD ROADS

Initiative petitions have been received in Flagstaff for initiating the law permitting the issuance of bonds by the state for good roads. The law was introduced in the last session of the legislature by Speaker Linney but owing to lack of time failed of passage in the senate.

The good roads people of the state are very much interested in having the law initiated in order that it may be voted on at the next general election. Those interested may find petitions at The Sun office and at Babbitt Bros.
